FOSS4G Europe is the regional European OSGeo event taking place every three years, as the fourth year our continent is home to the global FOSS4G. We are honoured to invite you this year to take the opportunity to sponsor the biggest European gathering of open source for geospatial professionals and novices, coming for the first time in the Baltics!

We reach out to you as we need your support to build FOSS4G Europe. We invite you to open your horizons towards the Northern Eastern Europe and come meet its wonderful emerging geospatial community.

Our goal is to create an open, comfortable environment for every geospatial user, developer or enthusiast to share, learn to inspire and be inspired.

By sponsoring FOSS4G Europe 2020, you are extending your contribution to the open source geospatial community, a contribution that is essential in keeping this valuable community active.

We have prepared 4 types of sponsorship opportunities + additional sponsorship options and we are flexible and open to ideas.

The fifth edition of the FOSS4G Europe event will be held in Valmiera, Latvia, from July 13th to 18th, 2020.

FOSS4G Europe 2020 is composed of 3 days of conference, 3 sessions of workshops and the traditional community sprint that will take place on Friday. We are happy to let you know that we will have a room available during the entire event for participants wanting to code or just need a place to discuss their ideas to improve our open source geospatial solutions. The event organization is leaded by a Local Organising Committee with international geospatial friends who are distributed into multiple committees.
